The Circulation of The Bulletin.

The Bulletin has the largest circulation of any paper in Eastern Conrecticut, and from three to four times larger than that of any in Norwich. It is delivered to over 2,000 of the 4,053 houses in Norwich, and read by ninety-three per cent. of the people. In Windham It is delivered to over 200 houses, in Putnam and Dantelson to over 1,100, and in all of these places it is considered the local daily.

Eastern Connecticut has fortynine sowns, one hundred and sixtyfive post office districts and fortyme ranal free delivery routes. The Bulletin is sold in every anticipated that they would. This book is essential to the proper completion of the event and its publication was assumed by The Bulletin as a matter of civic pride rather than as a specuin it for the printer. One citizen has ordered 24 copies and one 19, and one of the celebration books. I want it for two reasons: First, I want to be able to read the whole thing and study the pictures at my leisure; second, it is an investment-your twodollar book will be in demand at $5 or better before you and I get through selling things. There are people living in Norwich now who won't order picked only a limited amount, as I am and whose children will be begging saving it for seed. At the present time for copies at any price in 1925." This is the truth. If The Bulletin does not print an edition larger than sandy soil, it would have been a week 500 copies, the book may be in such | earlier.' demand that it will go to a premium

An order from a New York subscriber, who has no other interest than the interest awakened by a few years of residence here, reads:

No agents will be sent out to solicit orders, because that would add to the it looks as if June greez corn is among cost of the edition. Names of subscribers should be sent in to the business manager of The Bulletin.

NOT TO BE SO EASY. The getting of a vote upon the liquor question is not to be so easy in the future as it has been in the past. It was an easy matter to procure twenty-five voters' names upon a petition to the selectmen to have a vote taken for the purpose of determining whether the citizens were for license or prohibition. Under the law passed by the present general assembly, providing that a petition to the selectmen to have a vote taken on the liquor license question at a town election must be signed by ten per cent, of the registered voters, instead of by twenty-five names as heretofore, such a petition must be signed by ten per cent of the legal voters, which would mean here in Norwich a list of 500 names. This gives hope in many ces that the temperance element It will not operate in that way. It thing as the nigger in the woodpile. will be more work to get the petition, but so many people are willing to sign a petition for anything that the number of names can readily be procured. It should be borne in mind by the agitators that if a petition is to be file in the selectmen's office not later a head wind. This is doing pretty than September 13th.

THE REPORTER.

A short time ago, The Republican had occasion to call a reporter to task for what seemed a spitefulness in a plece of social news.

The reporter had been sent out to get the particulars of a wedding, After making four calls, two by appointment, and receiving three severe snubs, the reporter did not have the required information. The facts were finally gathered elsewhere and everything would have been satisfactory, but in the article as it appeared was a phrase that had no business there.

This has not been a good year for green corn but a Hockamum farmer writes the Hartford Courant. "I had sweet corn ripe and ready for market the 12th day of July, but have picked only a limited amount, as I am saving it for seed. At the present time I have at least 200 dozen ears past the cating stage. If it had not been for the drouth and haying it on high and sheen a good average season, this awest corn would have been a week earlier."

Now, this means that if the season had been a good average season, this awest corn would have been ready for the market on July 5th. In three innocent looking words, the reporter opened the door of the family closet, took out a skeleton, held it up to public view for an instant, and then with a vicious rattle of bones popped it back into the closet again, probably forever. It was mean, but it was very human, and after listening to the way the reporter had been treated that day, we could not blame him.
